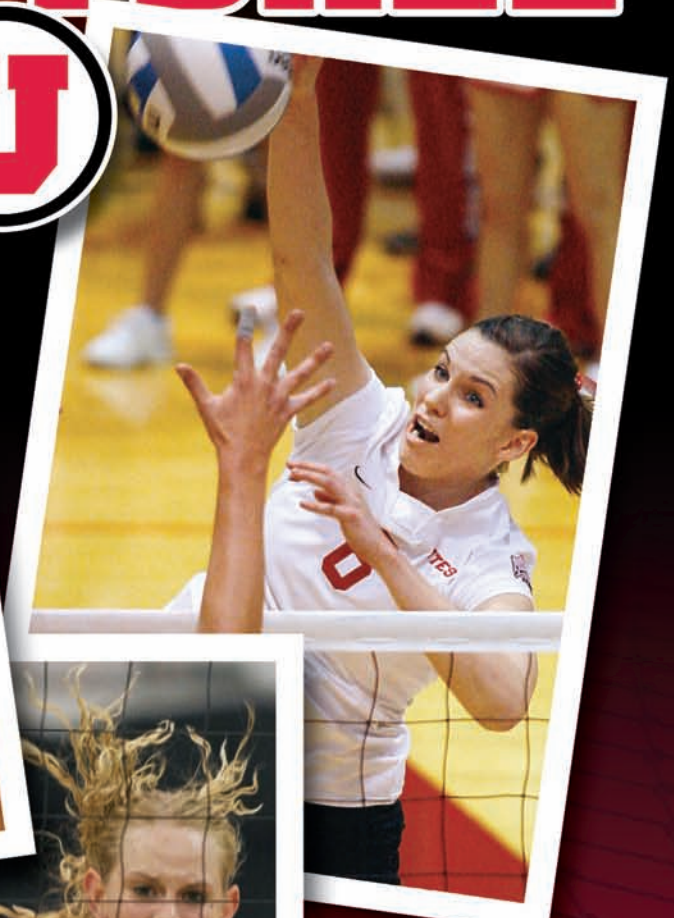
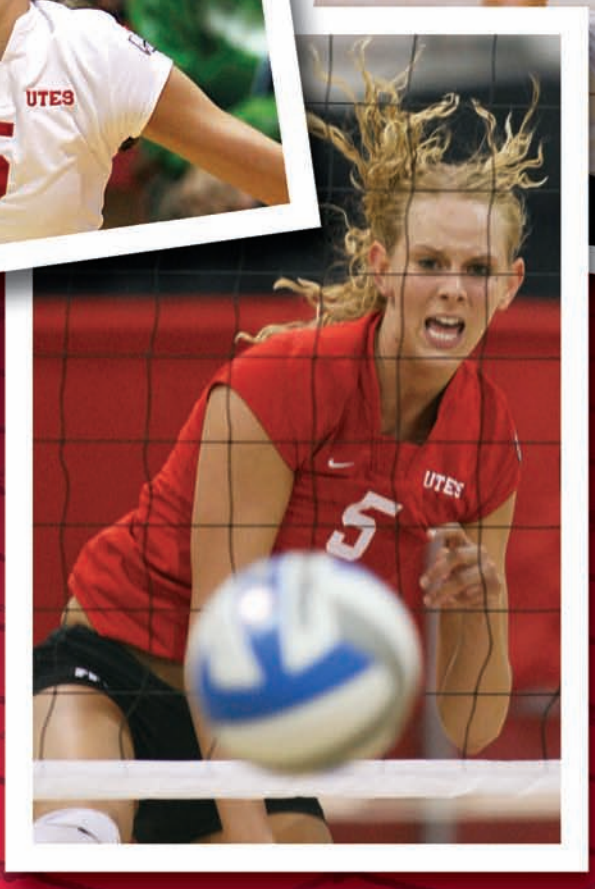
2008 UTAH VOLLEYBALL





Utah Sand Volleyball

During the final week of spring training this past off season, the Utah volleyball team spent some time training outdoors in the sand.

"We feel like playing outdoors is fun and it gets them ready to play outdoors in the summer," head coach Beth Launiere said. "It's great conditioning and we feel strongly that it improves their indoor game significantly."

Crimson Court

Top-notch volleyball, a driving band and a raucous crowd all make Crimson Court one of the finest volleyball-only facilities in the nation.

It has become one of the most intimidating competition venues in the country and within the last eight seasons, Utah has racked up a 94-15 (.862) home record and has tallied a 52-7 (.881) home mark in conference matches.

After a comprehensive renovation project, the court was officially dedicated on Sept. 9, 1994. It was christened by both a win over Montana State and a marathon five-game victory over San Jose State in the Utah Classic.

The largest crowd ever recorded at Crimson Court assembled on Nov. 4, 2005, when unranked Utah delivered a 3-0 upset to No. 12 Brigham Young in front of 1,591 fans.

Utah set the single-season attendance record in 2001. The Utes hosted 12,020 fans over the course of 15 games, averaging 801 fans per game.

The fan-friendly Crimson Court is considered one of the finest facilities in the Mountain West Conference — a league that has quickly earned a reputation as one of the strongest in the country. Not only has it been a launching pad for the Utes' nine NCAA Tournament appearances, but Crimson Court has also played host to the tournament. The facility entertained opening-round action in 2001 and again in 2005.

Crimson Court Highlights

Nov. 4, 2005
Unranked Utah upended No. 12 Brigham Young, 3-0, in front of a record crowd of 1,591 fans. The Utes held one of the most potent offenses in the nation to a mere .172 hitting as they raced their home winning streak out to 12 matches.

Sept. 17, 2004
The unranked Utes fought tooth and nail to upset the No. 6-ranked UCLA Bruins in five games. Connie Dangerfield led the defense and set the conference record for digs in a match (33).

Aug. 31, 2002
No. 13 Utah edged past No. 12 Pacific, 3-2, to claim the Utah Classic title. It extended Utah's home winning streak to 20 games. The Utes win streak extended to 29-straight at Crimson Court.

Nov. 3, 2001
No. 15 Utah downed No. 6-ranked Colorado State in ending the Rams' 20-match winning streak, 3-2. It was CSU's first (and only) conference loss as Utah went on to finish 10-2 in league action.

Nov. 30, 2001
The Utes hosted the first and second rounds of the NCAA tournament and beat Utah State, 3-1, in the second round to advance to the Sweet 16 for the first time in school history.

Sept. 5, 2000
Utah erased a 2-0 deficit to topple the No. 1-ranked Stanford Cardinal. The Utes set the school record for assists in a match (93) and tied the mark for kills in a match (97).

Sept. 22, 1995
The Utes snapped an 18-game losing streak to in-state rival BYU with a 3-0 home victory over the Cougars. It was only the Utes' second-ever win over BYU and it was head coach Beth Launiere's first.

The NCAA Tournament

The University of Utah is no stranger to the NCAA Tournament. Over the last several years, the Utes have become a fixture at the NCAA Tournament and have developed a rich history of success in that short span.

"Every year we play a nationally-competitive schedule to prepare for the NCAA Tournament," head coach Beth Launiere says. "Our goal is to continue to go to the NCAA Tournament year in and year out."

The team has participated in the NCAA Tournament nine years (1998-06), advancing to the second round seven times. The 2001 team went 2-1 in the tournament but concluded the season with a loss in the regional semifinals to eventual national champion Stanford.

The Utes qualified for the NCAA Tournament for the first time in 1998 and advanced to the second round in each of their first three appearances.

The team's regional semifinal appearance in 2001 was the first time in Utah volleyball history that a team had advanced to regionals. The Utes topped Texas Tech, 3-0, and Utah State, 3-1, in the first and second rounds on Crimson Court. Utah fell to host Stanford, 3-1, in Palo Alto in the regional.

In 2003, Utah was down 0-2 to No. 13 Santa Clara in 2003 in the first round before rallying for a thrilling five-game victory. The following night, the Utes fell in three games to host Washington.

Utah played host to the first and second rounds for the second time in 2005, winning the Mountain West automatic bid.

Utah Goes International

Numerous Utah volleyball players have earned the opportunity to play at the top levels of the game. The Utes have had several players compete within the USA Volleyball system and internationally, training and competing with the senior and junior national teams. Most recently, Emillie Toone and Lori Baird competed with the A2 National Team.

Danielle Leichliter, who played at Utah from 2002-05, became Utah's first professional player when she participated with VanajanRC Hameenlinna during the summer of 2006.

Several players have earned internatonal experience playing in the Global Challenge, a junior youth volleyball tournament with teams from the USA, Canada, Russia, China and Slovenia. Assistant coaches Burt Fuller and Heather Olmstead served as coaches during the challenge in Maribor, Slovania in July, 2006.

The University of Utah

The University of Utah is a hub for higher education from the Rockies to the Sierras and boasts an academic reputation that is rivaled only by its breathtaking vistas. The 1,500-acre campus, nestled in the foothills of the Wasatch Mountains, is a beautiful collage of native and exotic trees, fountains, flowering malls and pedestrian walkways.

Founded in 1850, the University offers 72 undergraduate majors, 70 minors and certificates, 40 teaching majors and minors, and 95 graduate majors. Academic opportunities at the U. include schools of law, medicine, architecture, pharmacy, business and engineering. The U. also boasts the nation's first American Indian social work program. Utah draws its 28,000-plus student population from all 50 states and 114 foreign countries.

Utah ranks among the top 35 public research universities in the nation, with particular distinction in medicine, genetics and engineering. On Oct. 8, 2007, University of Utah geneticist Mario R. Capecchi received the Nobel Prize in Physiology/Medicine for his work on gene targeting. Scientists from the University of Utah have identified more genes with diseases than anywhere else in the world. Capecchi is one of many acclaimed faculty members. The U. ranks 30th in significant awards to faculty among the nation's public research universities.

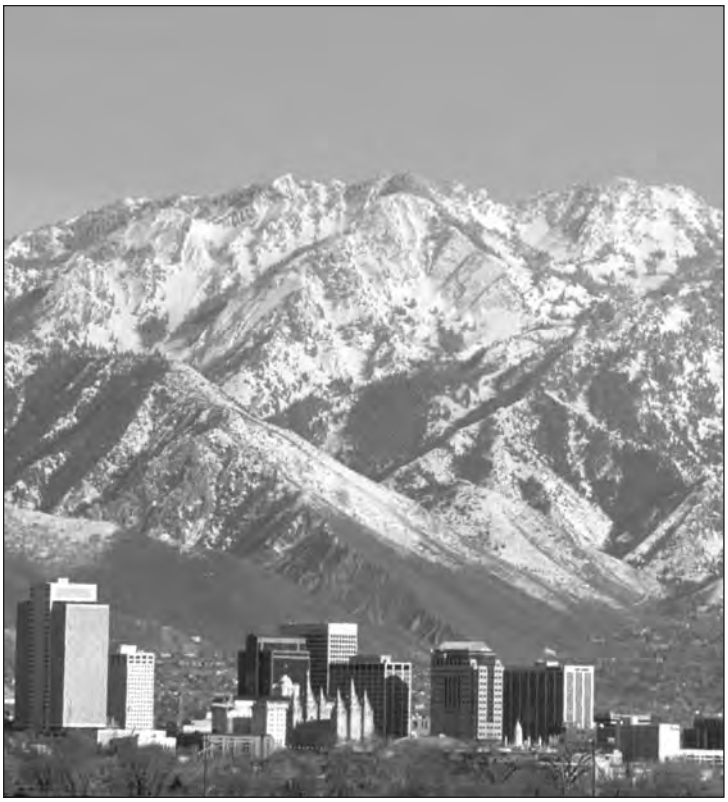
Research Park, which is located on 320 acres adjacent to the campus, houses 41 companies and 71 university departments. Some of the more prominent residents of Research Park are the Huntsman Cancer Institute, the Howard Hughes Medical Institute, the Eccles Institute of Human Genetics, the Moran Eye Center and the Brain Institute. The Huntsman Cancer Institute has the largest genetic database in the world and is the only National Cancer Institute in the Intermountain West. Gene targeting was developed at the Eccles Institute. The Moran Eye Center is considered one of the top eye centers in the world.

The U. is also noted for technology transfer and its Center for High Performance Computing serves as a link to major aerospace industries, high-tech manufacturers and research companies. It manages one of the three most successful technology parks in the U.S., with more than 40 high-tech companies created by University faculty. The U. has had a presence on the Internet since 1970, when it became the fourth node on the Internet.

The U.'s location in the largest city in the Intermountain West (metro population 1,333,914) allows for an urban experience in a beautiful setting. Salt Lake City is home to professional symphony, ballet, modern dance, opera and theater companies, as well as five professional sports teams.

The University of Utah

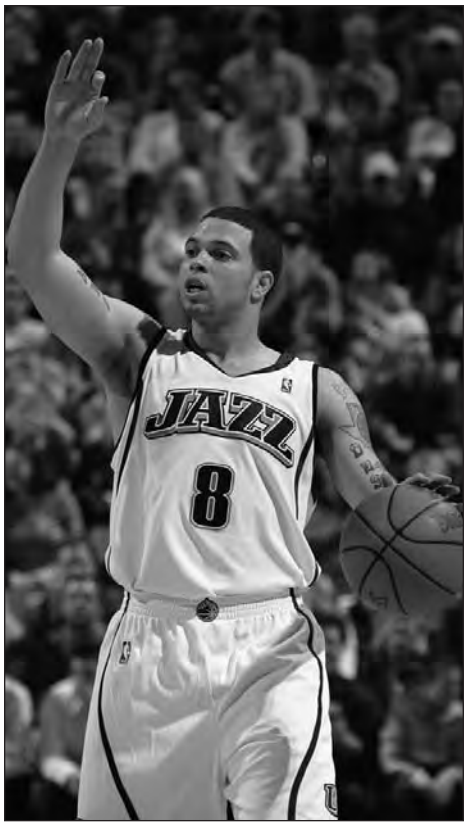
- Founded in 1850
- Classified by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching as a Research I University
- 167 degrees (undergraduate/ graduate)
- Enrollment of 28,025
- Campus is located on 1,500 acres
- Research Park houses some of the top medical institutes in the world.
- School of Medicine
- School of Law
- Nation's first American Indian Social Work program



The Wasatch Mountains ("mountains of many waters," as named by the Paiute Indians) are part of the Rocky Mountain range.

Ten national parks are within a few hours drive of Salt Lake City.

Salt Lake City hosts several yearly cultural events, including the Sundance Film Festival.



Professional sports franchises include the Utah Jazz (NBA) and Real Salt Lake (MLS).

Eight world-class ski resorts are located less than 40 miles from downtown Salt Lake.

University of Utah residence hall students live in a magnificent mountain setting. Heritage Commons, a living-learning community of 2,500 students that opened in 2000, received world-wide acclaim when it served as the Athletes Village during the 2002 Olympic Winter Games. The residential center is the heart of campus activity and exudes a vibrant, energetic "college town" atmosphere.

Game and exercise rooms, computer labs, Internet connections, cable TV and HBO in every room, and a dining room that is open all day and serves up freshly cooked meals on request are some of the reasons behind the School of the Year award delivered by the Intermountain Affiliate of College and University Residence Halls. Residence hall students also thrive academically at Utah: More than half of them maintain a GPA of 3.0 or higher.

Situated in historic Fort Douglas at the mouth of Red Butte Canyon and located on 70 acres of land, the expansive 912,000 square foot residential complex boasts picturesque views of Salt Lake City and the surrounding mountain ranges. Heritage Commons consists of 21 buildings – 20 residential and one for dining and support services. Eight of the buildings are apartment style, with 235 one-, two- and three-bedroom apartments.

First-year students live in Gateway Heights, a hall with furnished, double semi-suites, an advanced telecommunications system (voice, video and data), an ethernet connection to the U. student computer system, cable TV connections, a large community lounge, study rooms and indoor bike storage. Each floor has a kitchenette.

Chapel Glen is home to both first-year students and upperclassmen and offers the same amenities as Gateway Heights, along with a fitness area. Sage Point is reserved for upper division students and has single, double and deluxe suites. Sage Point also has computer and technology labs and an international area.

Benchmark Plaza is an apartment complex allocated for single students who have earned 60-plus credit hours. Shoreline Ridge, which offers both furnished and unfurnished apartment units, is reserved for students with families and single graduate students.

The Chase N. Peterson Heritage Center, open 24 hours a day, seven days a week during peak demand periods, is the hub of activity in the student housing village. It contains a central dining facility that seats 600, a convenience store, computer and technology labs, fitness and game rooms, four multipurpose rooms, a mail center and more. The student "village" also contains a University Bookstore branch, University Copy Center and the University Guest House, an on-campus hotel.

Transportation is another benefit of Heritage Commons. A U of U parking permit allows residents to park close to their hall, but a car is not necessary. Free campus shuttles run every 10 minutes and the Utah Transit Authority and light rail (TRAX), free to U. students, combine to traverse 21 routes to and from campus. TRAX extends to downtown Salt Lake and outlying areas as well. The residence halls are also easily accessible to main campus by foot and are connected via the George S. Eccles 2002 Legacy Bridge.

TRAX light rail is free to University of Utah students.

The Residence Hall Association provides various activities for students.

Heritage Commons residence halls served as the Athletes Village at the 2002 Olympic Winter Games.

The Utah volleyball team has a variety of resources available to it to care for both the player's physical and mental well-being.

Beginning in 2008, the Utes will begin training in the new Alex Smith Strength and Conditioning Facility at the Dee Glen Smith Athletics Center. Smith, now the now the starting quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers, donated $500,000 as the lead gift for the renovation and expansion of the existing strength and conditioning facility at his alma mater.

The current elite training facility has 16 full racks with Olympic platforms, a large dumbbell training area complete with 12 0-90 degree incline walk-up benches, and a large cardiovascular area complete with treadmills, cross trainers, stair steppers and spin bikes.

The strength and conditioning program concentrates on strength training, speed development, flexibility, mental toughness, conditioning, injury prevention and motivation. Under the direction of Doug Elisaia, the director of strength and conditioning, the volleyball program works with Assistant Director of Strength and Conditioning Jon Webster.

To care for the athlete's injuries, the Utah athletics program maintains a partnership with a veteran sports medicine team supervised by Dr. Bob Burks, director of the University of Utah Sports Medicine Center at Red Butte Clinic. The sports medicine staff is headed by director Trevor Jameson and associate trainer Deb Willardson, while the volleyball team works with Tom Lynch on a daily basis.

Other resources available to Utah volleyball players include a sports psychologist and nutritionist.

Academic Support

As an academic institution, the University of Utah enjoys a richly deserved reputation for excellence in education. The Utah athletics department works to ensure that all of its student-athletes take advantage of the academic opportunities available by providing specialized academic counseling.

The U. employs four full-time academic advisers for its student-athletes. The department is under the direction of director of athletic-academic services JoAnn Hulbert-Eagan, winner of 2002 Perlman Award for Excellence in Student Counseling. Working directly with the volleyball team is advisor Rob Rainey.

The Ute academic team monitors the studies of each student-athlete to ensure he or she is making progress toward a degree.The academic advisors also dispense their knowledge of departmental and university requirements, and assist with course registration and the exploration and selection of majors.

Programs

Study Table
Available to all student-athletes, regardless of year or GPA.

Tutorial Program
Individual tutors, drop-in tutoring, and exam reviews.

Internships
The "Partnering with U." program offers career mentoring, shadowing and internship opportunities with area businesses.

Fifth-Year Senior Program
Provides financial assistance to student-athletes whose eligibility has expired before they have finished their degrees.

Life Skills Center
Provides student-athletes avenues for personal development, community service and leadership resources. Offers student-athletes information on possible career choices through the Strong Interest Inventory given to all freshmen in the Life Skills class.

Summer School
Financial aid for summer school is available to student-athletes who meet the criteria.

Priority Registration
Priority registration allows student-athletes to schedule classes around practices and training.

Academics at Utah

Research
The University of Utah ranks among the top 35 public research universities in the nation, with particular distinction in medicine, genetics and engineering. On Oct. 8, 2007, University of Utah geneticist Mario R. Capecchi received the Nobel Prize in Physiology/Medicine for his work on gene targeting. Research Park, located on 320 acres adjacent to the campus, is the site of the Huntsman Cancer Institute, the Howard Hughes Medical Institute, the Eccles Institute of Human Genetics, the Moran Eye Center and the Brain Center.

Grants
One of the leading universities in the nation in federal research grants, the U. receives more than $300 million annually in grants and contracts. The U. received more than $322 million in research funding in 2007.

Learning Environment
The Princeton Review ranked the University of Utah No. 1 for learning environment in 2005 (based on a survey of students).

Programs
The University offers 72 majors, 70 minors and certificates, and 95 graduate majors.

Computer Services
A computer lab designated for use solely by Utah's varsity student-athletes is housed in the Burbidge Athletics Academic Center. Laptop computers are also available for team travel. The U. offers free email accounts to all students.

The Burbidge Center is central to both Utah's classrooms and athletic venues.

The Center features a large computer lab, academic advising offices, group and one-on-one tutoring rooms and houses the Life Skills/Career Resource Center.

The Ute football team has the nation's second-longest current bowl win streak, having won its last seven bowl games. Utah went undefeated (12-0) in 2004, winning the Fiesta Bowl.

Andre Miller led Ute basketball to the 1998 NCAA Championship game againt Kentucky.

The Utah gymnastics team placed second at the 2008 NCAA Championships - its third-straight runner-up finish.

The Ute ski team has won 11 national championships. They finished third in 2008.

Swoop is the official mascot of Utah athletics.

Season Outlook

For Utah head women's volleyball coach Beth Launiere, the 2008 season can't start soon enough. After beginning the 2007 campaign with a number of question marks, the Utes battled through adversity to finish second at the Mountain West Conference Tournament, upsetting a few top 25 teams along the way.

"I am as excited about this season as I've been about a team," Launiere said. "I feel like we have the right people on the bus and we have them in the right seats. Everyone in the program is working really hard and I feel like all the pieces of the puzzle are coming together."

Among the returning players are seniors Lori Baird and Kathryn Haynie. Baird was an honorable mention all-region selection after finishing in the top-20 in the country with 1.53 blocks per game. She spent time playing with the USA Women's National A2 Team over the summer. Haynie led the Utes with 3.65 kills per game. Along with senior Emillie Toone, who was second in the country in blocking in 2006 before tearing her ACL and taking a redshirt year in 2007, the three will be a powerful combination this year.

A solid group of newcomers are expected to contribute immediately, including junior college All-American Cinthia Silva and high school All-American Abby Simmons.

Outside Hitter

Haynie became a go-to player on the floor last season as the No. 1 outside hitter for the team, finishing in the top 10 in the conference in kills and led the team in the category.

"Kat had as good a spring as she's ever had," Launiere said. "She is a workhorse for us and has decreased her errors and become more consistent. The experience she gained last year as the No. 1 outside hitter has given her a lot of confidence going into her senior year."

Silva helped lead Salt Lake Community College to a third-place national finish in 2007, earning second-team All-America honors along the way. She led the Scenic West Athletic Conference with 3.87 kills per game. Hibbert, the 2006 and 2007 Alaska Gatorade Volleyball Player of the Year, enrolled at Utah in January, 2008, and gained valuable experience working with the team during the spring season.

"Cinthia is going to be a nice addition to this program," Launiere said. "She is quick, athletic, dynamic, and a good passer. We are really excited about her. I think she fits a need that we have in terms of ball control – she is also a good defensive player.

"It's hard to explain how valuable it is to get six months of training before your freshman year. Sarah needed to make some technical changes and she changed positions when she came to college. She has made a lot of progress and gained a lot of experience."

Setter

The Utes return both Stephanie Shardlow and Keisha Fisher, who shared time at the position by the end of last season. Although Fisher will move into the libero position, Shardlow ran the offense the entire spring. She averaged 6.61 assists per game last year.

"Stephanie was thrown into the fire last year and came out of it alive," Launiere said. "Physically and mentally, she is a whole different player than she was a year ago."

Simmons will also have a chance to battle for the starting spot. She was a 2007 PrepVolleyball.com High School All-American and was a finalist for the website's Andi Collins Award, which is given to the top setter in the country.

"Abby is one of the top setters out of Arizona," Launiere said. "She is a nice, quick athlete who has good size and good hands. There is always a learning curve with freshman setters, so the faster she can get in and learn our system, the better it will be for us. We are excited about her.

"It's nice going into this season with two setters. We'll let them compete on the court in the preseason. The position is much more settled than it was a year ago."

Middle Blocker

The Utes have the most depth, by far, at the middle blocker position. In addition to Toone and Baird, sophomore Karolina Bartkowiak and junior Chelsey Sandberg each played key roles on the team last year.

"By the end of the spring, Emillie was at 95 percent, and she will be 100 percent by August," Launiere said. "You can't put a value on how much she brings to the team and to the court. She learned a lot being off the court last year and really grew as a person and mentally through that experience. Emillie is a good, positive energy player and it's good to have that back on the court – not to mention her blocking and hitting.

"Like Kat, the experience Lori gained as one of our go-to players has turned her into a completely different player than she was a year

Kathryn Haynie was among the conference leaders in kills.

Lori Baird is a two-time All-MWC selection.

Emillie Toone earned honorable mention All-America honors in 2006.

- Karolina Bartkowiak 125 (1.10/g)
- Chelsey Sandberg..... 111 (1.18/g)

ago. She's playing with so much confidence. Playing on the right side this spring, we were able to get her significantly more sets, so that's a move we're going to consider. Lori's whole game has developed and we're going to find a way to utilize everything that she can do."

Bartkowiak spent time playing in both the middle and right side positions last year and became a significant cog in the offense. She finished third on the team with 1.10 blocks per game and had 1.98 kills per game. Sandberg finished second on the squad with 1.18 blocks per game.

"Karolina runs the slide so well off one foot that we want to utilize that strength," Launiere said. "She can be a big offensive player for us because of that. Karolina made progress in her conditioning which is going to make a big difference for her in her sophomore season.

"Chelsey was our most improved player for the second year in a row. She has made herself into a really good Division I player. Between Lori, Karolina and Chelsea, all three of them are training in the middle and on the right side and it's going to be competitive."

Danielle Killpack, who redshirted last season, and newcomer Miranda Bradshaw will also be in the mix to earn a position on the court.

"The redshirt year was very valuable for Dani," Launiere said. "She worked really hard and has improved her game a lot. We are excited about Miranda's size and athleticism and think that she's going to be a valuable plaer in this program."

In addition to Baird, Bartkowiak and Sandberg, who have experience and talent both in the middle and on the right side, redshirt freshman Jennifer Lanting will also look to make an impact for the Utes.

"Jen used the redshirt year to really improve every aspect of her skills and conditioning," Launiere said. "She puts up a big block for us. As she improves the rest of her game, her ability to contribute is going to increase."

Defensive Specialist/Libero

One of the biggest losses to the Ute squad is career digs record-holder Connie Dangerfield. However, sophomore Keisha Fisher, who started most of 2007 at setter, was originally recruited as Dangerfield's replacement and moved into the libero position full-time during the spring. Fisher averaged 8.41 assists per game and 2.41 digs per game last season.

"We knew when we recruited Keisha that she could play in just about every position and that's what she's been doing for us," Launiere said. "She spent the spring learning the defensive system so that she can take more responsibility there. Playing setter helped prepare her to play libero because she had a big responsibility at setter and did a tremendous job. She's going to be a very good libero for us and we are excited about her in that position."

Junior Stephanie Hodgman played in 51 games and came away with 47 digs on the year. Freshman Corinne Crump, a two-time first-team all-region selection out of Alta High School, will also contribute on defense.

"Stephanie is a much improved player from when she first got here in terms of skills and conditioning," Launiere said. "She has improved the whole aspect of her game and has become a leader on our team. We have watched Corinne for a long time and she is a nice defensive player. She plays in a club that runs the same system, so she comes in fairly prepared as a freshman."

Schedule

The 2008 schedule features four teams that ended the season ranked in the top-25 of the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) poll, with eight teams that reached the 2007 NCAA Tournament.

Utah hosts two tournaments in the early part of the season, beginning with the Ute Invitational, Aug 29-31. The Utes will play Utah Valley on Friday, Aug 29, facing Santa Clara on Sunday, Aug. 31. Santa Clara reached the NCAA Tournament last year.

The Utes head to New Mexico State for the NMSU Tournament, Sept. 5-6, and included on the slate is NCAA power Texas. The Longhorns finished the year ranked sixth in the final AVCA poll. NMSU was also nationally ranked, while the team will also square off against Florida Gulf Coast and Houston.

The team returns home to Crimson Court to host the Utah Classic, Sept. 12-13, which sees Purdue, St. Louis and Utah State travel to Salt Lake City. Purdue made the NCAA Tournament, while St. Louis is one of the top teams in the Atlantic 10. Utah upset the No. 17 Boilermakers last season.

"We have three very good teams at the Utah Classic, and Santa Clara the first weekend will also be an important game for us," Launiere said. "At New Mexico State we have the opportunity to play Texas, which probably has the most size of any team in the country. They are a legitimate final four team next year, and it will be exciting to play them. New Mexico State is a solid program. It will be a good match-up between a good MWC team and a good WAC team."

The Mountain West Conference slate starts on Sept. 18 at Colorado State. The Rams and Utes had several classic battles last year, including a 3-2 Utah upset of No. 20 and top-seeded CSU in the second round of the MWC Tournament last year.

Other tough teams on the schedule include BYU, which finished the season ranked 12th in the AVCA poll, along with reigning MWC Tournament champion UNLV.

"Our conference finished fourth in the country in RPI last season," Launiere said. "That's big time. Although CSU, BYU and Utah have always had a stronghold on the conference, UNLV broke into that last year and New Mexico and TCU are both knocking on the door. That strength is good for everyone in the conference."

With the elimination of the MWC Tournament, the Utes will use the final weekend of November to travel to the University of the Pacific for the Bankers Classic. Utah will face Nevada in the first game on Nov. 28, with a second game on Nov. 29.

"The Bankers Classic is one of the longest-running, most prestigious collegiate tournaments there is," Launiere said. "They have had some really good teams over the years. It will be a nice way to end the season and prepare for NCAA's."

The Mountain West Conference is naming anniversary teams for its sports during the 2008-09 school year to commemorate its 10th Anniversary season. The teams will be selected by a combination of balloting of fans, media and institutional personnel.

Utah's Kim Turner and Shelly Sommerfeldt were selected to the team.

A two-time MWC Player of the Year, Turner ended her career ranked first in the Utah record books in kills (1,620), total blocks (670), block assists (589) and hitting percentage (.324).

Sommerfeldt was a three-time all-conference hitter and a two-time All-MWC Tournament player. She was also MWC Tournament MVP as a senior.

Competitive, hard-working and dedicated all describe veteran head coach Beth Launiere as she has built the University of Utah volleyball team from the ground up, making it one of the premiere programs in the conference and in the nation.

Launiere (365-206, .639) took over in 1990, looking to straighten out a team that won only one match in 1989. In her 18 years, she has sculpted the Utes into a top-25 power and earned her 300th win with the program in 2005.

Nine times have the Utes qualified for the NCAA Tournament, winning five Mountain West Conference titles. She has recorded 12, 20-win seasons. For her efforts, Launiere has earned AVCA West Region (2001, 06) and MWC (2004, 06) Coach of the Year honors twice.

Her ability to attract top-notch talent has helped take Utah to the forefront of the national scene. She has guided three Utes to All-America honors while eight have garnered all-region accolades. The 2005 freshman class was ranked the eighth-best in the nation by Volleyball Magazine. Many of her players have represented Utah internationally in various US Olympic development programs.

Launiere's impact on the sport goes well beyond the court. Since 2004 she has guided volleyball on the national stage as a member of the AVCA Board of Directors. Launiere is currently serving as President-Elect of the AVCA. She recently finished a three-year term as the Division I Coaches Volleyball Representative and prior to that served on the AVCA's All-America committee for five years.

On the court, Utah volleyball reached new heights in 2006. It set the school record for wins in a season (28), set the school and conference record for league wins (16) and became only the second MWC school ever to go undefeated in conference play. The team won a school-record 25 straight during the season and was ranked as high as ninth in the AVCA poll. Led by Emillie Toone, who finished second in the country in blocking, Utah led the nation in blocks (3.71). Launiere was voted both the MWC and West Region Coach of the Year for the second time in her career.

Since the beginning of the MWC in 1999, Utah has won three tournament championships (2001, 02', 05) and two regular season titles (2004, 06').

Utah has also been successful on a national level. In nine NCAA Tournament appearances, the Utes have reached the second-round seven times, with a regional semifinal appearance in 2001. That year, Utah fell to eventual national champion Stanford, 3-1. Utah was the only team to win a game against the Cardinal during the tournament.

Launiere led Utah to its first national ranking in 2000 after defeating No. 1 Stanford, 3-2, on Sept. 5, 2000. The next week, the Utes appeared in the Sept. 18th AVCA Top 25 poll, coming in at No. 18. Utah earned its highest ranking in school history on Sept. 2, 2002, when it was ranked eighth.

Launiere arrived at Utah in 1990 and took over a team that had compiled a 1-32 record the previous year. Inspiring a turnaround in the program, she recorded Utah's first winning season in seven years (18-15) by her third year in 1992. Utah earned its first postseason berth in 1993, placing third in the NIVC. The Utes as a team and senior Mikki Kane-Barton led the nation in blocks that year, a first for any Western Athletic Conference team.

In addition to three AVCA All-Americans (Airial Salvo, Kim Turner and Whitney Webb), 15 of Launiere's players have earned first team all-conference accolades, while eight have been named all-region. Turner (2002-03) and Salvo (2006) were each named MWC Player of the Year. Launiere's recruits have also rewritten the record book, holding career records in kills, attempts, assists, aces, digs, total blocks and hitting efficiency. Several players have gone on to compete in the USA Volleyball system, including Turner, Salvo, Toone, Lori Baird, Sydney Anderson, Lyndsey Henderson and Kelsie Kartchner. Danielle Leichliter trained overseas with Vanajan RC.

Prior to coming to Utah, the Grand Rapids, Mich., native was as an assistant coach at Illinois (1988-89). It went 57-12 during Launiere's stay and made it to two NCAA Tournaments, including a 1988 Final Four showing.

An assistant at Ferris State (Mich.) from 1985-87, Launiere helped the Bulldogs win three postseason bids and to a showing in the 1987 NCAA Division II Final Four.

Launiere graduated in 1985 from Aquinas College (Mich.). She earned a bachelor's degree in business administration and economics and has a master's in sports administration from Illinois.

Burt Fuller

Assistant Coach
3rd Season

Burt Fuller is in his third season with the University of Utah volleyball coaching staff. Fuller, who spent the previous five seasons as the head coach at Utah State, brings a wealth of success and knowledge to Utah.

In his first season in 2006 he helped lead the Utes to a 28-4 record, which included a 16-0 conference slate and a second round NCAA Tournament appearance.

While at Utah State, Fuller led his team to two NCAA Tournament appearances and guided the Aggies to an 82-70 mark. He chalked up two 20-win seasons in coaching two All-Americans (Erin Cartwright-Davis and Zuzana Cernianska) and 10 all-league selections.

The Aggies turned in a 21-13 record in 2005, finishing second in the Western Athletic Conference. They also took second in the WAC Tournament and earned their second NCAA Tournament berth that year.

Utah State's other NCAA Tourney showing came in Fuller's first year at the helm. In 2001, the team recorded a 20-11 mark and went 12-6 in Big West play. The Aggies opened the NCAA Tournament with a 3-2 win over No. 19-ranked Brigham Young. The 2001 squad finished its campaign ranked No. 21 in the final AVCA poll. Fuller coached five all-league honorees that year, the most on one team in USU history.

In addition to his collegiate coaching experiences, Fuller coached the IVA High Performance team at the 2006 Global Challenge in Maribor, Slovenia.

Prior to Utah State, Fuller was a long-time assistant at national power UCLA. In his seven seasons in Westwood, Calif., the Bruins went to the NCAA Tournament six times. UCLA finished second in 1994 and made two appearances in the regional final. His 2000 team finished No. 7 in the country. While at UCLA, he helped coach 23 All-Pac-10 selections and five All-Americans.

Fuller's first head coaching job was with Los Angeles Pierce Junior College where he coached the women's team in 1992 and 1993. He was also an assistant on the men's team, helping them to a state title in 1992 and a runner-up finish in 1994. He also has stints as an assistant at Fresno State (1989) and Chico State (1985).

Other coaching endeavors for Fuller include two years at Los Altos (Calif.) High School where he was named Central Coast Section Coach of the Year in 1998. He was also head coach of the USA Maccabiah Team in 1997 that won the USA's first-ever gold medal in volleyball at the World Games. In 2005, he served as the Intermountain Region Youth Team coach, guiding it to a championship at the 2005 Global Challenge.

Fuller earned his recreation management degree from Chico State in 1986 and was a member of the men's volleyball program from 1984-85. Prior to that he obtained his associate of arts degree from Los Angeles Pierce Junior College in 1982. As a player at LA Pierce JC, he played middle blocker during the 1981 season and led his team to the state tournament in 1982 as an all-conference setter.

Heather Olmstead

Assistant Coach
3rd Season

Heather Olmstead is in her third season as an assistant coach with the University of Utah. She previously spent three years as an assistant at Utah State.

In her first season in 2006 she helped lead the Utes to a 28-4 record, which included a 16-0 conference slate and a second-round NCAA Tournament appearance.

While on the Aggie staff, she helped guide the team to a 48-43 record, including a 21-13 record and an NCAA Tournament berth in 2005.

In addition to her collegiate coaching duties, Olmstead coached the IVA High Performance team at the 2006 Global Challenge in Maribor, Slovenia.

Olmstead was a four-year starter for the Utah State women's volleyball team from 1998-2001 and finished her career second all-time in digs (981), sixth in games played (412) and eighth in matches played (116). She also set the single-season record for digs during her senior year with 340.

She became the first defensive specialist in the history of the Big West Conference to be named first-team all-league in 2001. That season, the Aggies made it to the second round of the NCAA Tournament and ended the year ranked No. 21 in the country. She was also named an academic all-Big West selection three times and was named USU's scholar-athlete during her senior season.

After her collegiate career, Olmstead was the only libero in the country selected at the United States Professional Volleyball tryouts to compete in the 2002-03 season. In 2003 she played in the Professional Volleyball league in Europe before joining the Aggies' staff.

During the summer of 2005, she coached with the Intermountain Volleyball Association High Performance team that participated in the Global Challenge.

Olmstead graduated from Utah State University in 2002 with a bachelor's degree in family and consumer science.

2007 Season Review

The Utah volleyball team ran the gamut of emotions in 2007. After two starters transfered at the end of the spring season and another was lost for the year due to injury, few people knew what to expect going into the year. However, by the end of the season, the Utes came together to earn a 15-15 record, finishing second in the Mountain West Conference Tournament.

"By the end of the season we became a very good volleyball team," head coach Beth Launiere said. "It took a lot of hard work from where we started and a lot of determination from the players, coaches and everyone involved. We ended up with the third-toughest schedule in the country. To win 15 matches with that schedule, with the adversity that we had, I think that's extremely successful."

The Utes first nine matches featured seven teams that were ranked at some point during the season, including No. 4 USC, No. 5 UCLA and No. 6 Florida. Utah played competitively in all of these matches, dropping a number of games by just points and pushing almost every match to four or five games.

A 3-1 win over Colorado State on Sept. 21, which would move into the top-25 a few weeks later, was the first turning point for the Utes, as they went on to win five of their next six matches. However, Utah struggled with inconsistency in the middle of the season with streaks of both wins and losses. With a 3-0 win over Utah Valley on Oct. 23, the Utes began a surge towards the finish that culminated in them winning eight of their final 12 matches.

"There were points in the season where we were up and down," Launiere said. "The loss at Utah State (Oct. 30) really made the team decide that they were going to do whatever it took to win."

The final weekend of the regular season provided one of the biggest sparks of the year. After losing three close games to BYU the previous weekend, Utah defeated No. 25 UNLV in four games and swept San Diego State to finish tied for fourth in the MWC season standings with a 9-7 record.

The Utes entered the MWC Tournament as the fifth seed, drawing TCU, a team which had beaten Utah twice in the regular season, in the first game.

"We knew going into the tournament that there was a lot of parity, and we believed that anyone could win it," Launiere said. "We were playing well and figured it might as well be us. Our team believed. We didn't have anything to lose."

Sweeping TCU in the first round, the Utes reached the championship match with a thrilling 3-2 win over No. 20 Colorado State. The Rams went on to be seeded 14th in the NCAA Tournament the next week.

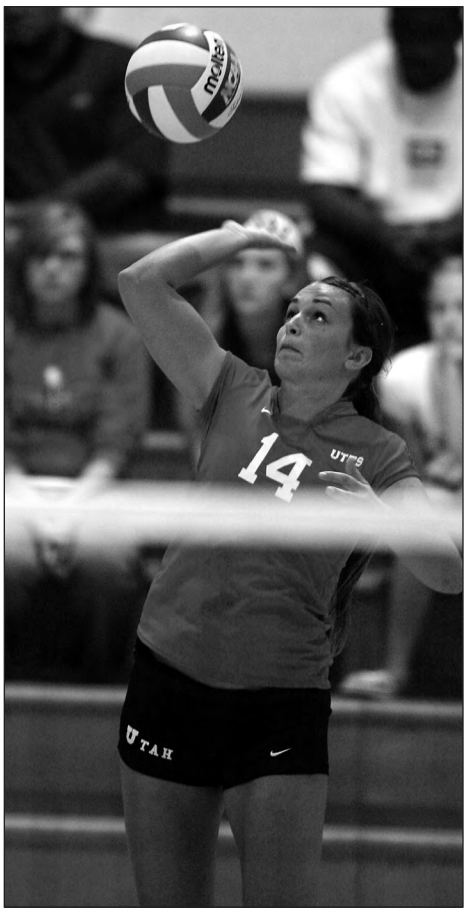
"The win over CSU was one of the biggest wins of the program," Launiere said. "We were the underdog and we stepped up and achieved something great under a lot of pressure. To pull that off in five games was amazing."

The dream came to an end the next day with a heartbreaking 3-2 loss to UNLV in the title match of the tournament.

"UNLV was on a mission just like we were, after they lost the regular season championship with two losses in the final weekend," Launiere said. "I think those missions came to a head at 11-11 in game five."

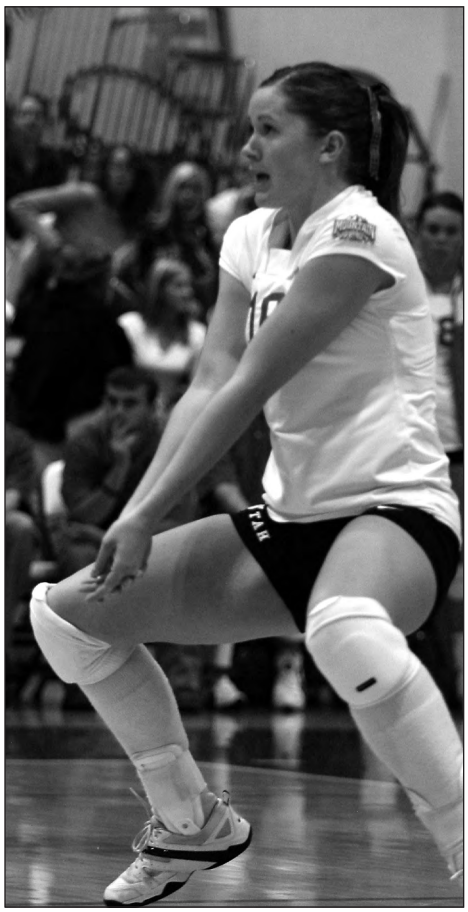
After the disappointment of missing the NCAA Tournament for the first time in 11 years and finishing the season on a high note, Launiere is ready to get back on the court for next year.

"There's a high level of motivation," she said. "The coaches are in the office working hard and we're very excited for next year. We feel like this recruiting class is as good as we've had and it makes you hungry when you don't get in the tournament. I think this group's going to work very hard in the off-season."



Connie Dangerfield set the single-season and career record for digs in her senior year.

Lori Baird earned both all-conference and all-region honors in 2007.



Kate Robison averaged 2.76 kills and 2.91 digs per game as a senior.
